The personal qualities that you were born with are the result of “nature.” The characteristics you develop through living with other people are the result of “nurture.” Nature and nurture both affect the personality of an individual. Look carefully at the pictures. Answer the questions. This will help you write an essay later.
1. What personality traits do you think people have from birth?

2. What personality traits do you think result from the way people are raised?

3. Do you think nature or nurture has a greater influence on the development of personality? Why?
Writing

DIRECTIONS: Write an essay about how people’s personalities are formed. Discuss both the influence of the characteristics people are born with (nature) and the way people are raised (nurture). Make sure your essay is well organized and of sufficient length. You may use your ideas from the Pre-Writing questions to help you write.
Write about the topic.
Add details.
Use a variety of words.
Use complete sentences and paragraphs.
Use correct grammar, punctuation, and spelling.

* If a response is completely off-topic and has no contextual relevancy to the Writing prompt, it should be given the score point zero, regardless of how well written it is. However, since the Writing prompts are graphic-based with very little text, if a student chooses to write about a recognizable part of the graphic or only addresses the writing prompt, the response should be considered relevant and should be scored according to the rubric.
