

SUMMER 09

ISSUE 1

TRANSITION KENSAL TO KILBURN

WWW.TTKENSALTOKILBURN.NING.COM

Queen's Park, Kensal Rise, Kensal Green and West Kilburn

Coming Soon

13th Sept,
2009

Queen's Park Day Stall, Saturday Sept 13th

Some curious activities will be taking place - come and see us!

Film Night

Eco-film evenings at The Lexi

We're organising film screenings, discussions and speakers from mid-September 09 onwards. Come along and meet your neighbours, and find out more about what's going on in Queen's Park, Kensal Rise and Kilburn.

Grow Food

No more food miles!

Your Sunday lunch has probably travelled 250,000 miles to arrive on your plate!! Our food group has many ideas to help us obtain more food locally, to minimise CO2 emissions from "food miles".

Find out more...

Transition Towns

are springing up worldwide. Totnes in Devon created an "Energy Descent action plan" and now it's been picked up by 400+ towns, villages and cities, including Brixton, Ealing, Belsize Park, & Tooting in London. Google it or go to www.transitiontowns.org, or buy the Transition Towns book by Rob Hopkins. (Or get free here!) Sign up to our site to be kept informed and join in our many budding plans.

TTKtoK is a newly-formed group of locals with a shared concern: how can our community respond to Climate Change? Transition Initiatives have been kicking off in towns and villages all over the world - and now, it's our turn!

WHAT WILL LIFE BE LIKE WHEN THE AGE OF CHEAP OIL IS OVER?

You've all heard of climate change, but how soon is it going to affect us here, at home? With the world's resources such as cheap oil depleting fast, the stuff we take for granted is going to become unaffordable. Turning the area into a "transition town" is a way of attempting to help the community become more resilient against the challenges that will inevitably face us.

WHAT ARE WE UP TO?

We're planning all sorts of useful and exciting activities which you could get involved in. From learning to garden and produce food on community allotments, to making green roofs and having street parties. Our Food,

Energy, Green Buildings, & Education Groups need you - or form your own!

WE NEED YOU!

If you're interested in learning more on climate change or if you just want to learn how to grow veg on your window sill, sign up with us. All our plans are based on making things as fun (and free!) as possible -and are open to everybody. Sharing skills and meeting your neighbours is what it's all about. Join up to the website below and catch us at Queen's Park Day, September 13th.

www.TTKensaltoKilburn.ning.com or email transitionkk@googlemail.com